EVV receives new security equipment that will streamline checked baggage process.

EVANSVILLE, IN – June 15, 2009 The Evansville-Vanderburgh Airport Authority District announced today that the TSA (Transportation Security Administration) has installed new security equipment to aid in the process of checking in luggage.

The new CT80 machines use technology that process higher volumes of bags and bags that don't fit into conventional systems. The airport's previous system involved the luggage being checked at the ticket counters in front of the passenger. Now the checked bags will be inspected by the CT80 machines in a separate location which will significantly speed up the check-in process for passengers.

Local TSA employees are currently being trained on the new equipment, and the airport expects to start using the equipment later this week.
