The Evansville Regional Airport Fire and Safety Department in conjunction with St. Mary's Medical Center Lifelight will participate in the filming of a national training video for the ARFF community.

Date: Monday, Tuesday, July 26-27, 2010
Location: Evansville Regional Airport/Tri-State Aero

Evansville Regional Airport along with St. Mary's Lifelight will participate in the filming of a basic helicopter safety training video that is being produced by the American Association of Airport Executives (AAAE) ANTN Digicast Department.

Lieutenant Tom Littlepage from Evansville Regional Airport will serve as host for this video. Tom has hosted several of these training videos for ANTN's Digicast series of Aircraft Familiarizations which are widely used throughout the Aircraft Rescue Fire Fighting (ARFF) community. "The exciting part for me is that all of these videos remain in the top ten for most watched programs. I think this lets us know we are doing something the ARFF community appreciates and uses," said Larry Way, Production Manager for ANTN.

"The airport is very pleased to have the support of St. Mary's Lifelight for this very important project that will benefit so many airports across the country as well provide national exposure for our community," said marketing and public relations manager, Dianna Kissel.
